OBJECTIVES:

AR1360 will introduce the basic elements of design: form, line, shape, value, texture, colour, space and the principles of organization: rhythm, balance, scale/proportion and movement. There is an emphasis on exploration and production of concepts and the identification of the interrelation between concept and form. Students will explore a variety of both two and three-dimensional media, gaining technical skills while developing a critical awareness of contemporary art.

During this course the student will:

1. Identify and apply the principles of aesthetic unity (balance, rhythm, repetition, dominance and contrast/variety) to the organization of the elements of visual art.
2. Develop a basic working knowledge of the techniques and materials introduced, especially those relating to drawing, collage, photography, modeling and assemblage.
3. Develop a critical understanding of two and three-dimensional art through discussion and class critiques, and begin to equip themselves with a visual and verbal vocabulary.
4. Learn to think creatively, to problem solve and to experiment.
5. Demonstrate the ability to independently research artists, techniques or media related to the course content, to record this research in a journal, and present findings to peers.
